

TOWN&COUNTRY

LEISURE ARTS & CULTURE

Salon Rising

A leading design fair returns for a second year to the Park Avenue Armory.

BY GEORGINA SCHAEFFER NOVEMBER 10, 2013

Courtesy of R20th Century, New York

»» SUBSCRIBE TO TOWN & COUNTRY

This week, the Salon: Art + Design, an international art and design fair presented by Sanford L. Smith + Associates in association with the Syndicat National des Antiquaires, returns to the Park Avenue Armory in New York City for the second time. The fair features some 53 leading international dealers exhibiting modern art and design from 1890 to the present; last year, The New York Times called it "a museum in the making." The cadre of galleries will bring major pieces by legends like Corbusier and Frank Lloyd Wright as well as pieces by emerging designers like the Campana and Haas Brothers. Important 18th century French Furniture will be juxtaposed with pieces by Deco masters like Andre Sornay, Jean Dunand, and Jean Michael Frank. Works of fine art by Edward Hopper, Gerhard Richter, Henry Moore, and Egon Schiele will be on view. Add to this already prestigious mix, one of the world's leading dealers in Chinese decorative art, three top Parisian ethnographic dealers, and a New York specialist in Greek and Roman antiquities.

If you're looking to get a jump on the fair, Artsy has launched an online preview of the fair with a selection of objects curated by leading interior designers Steven Gambrel, Mario Brito, Amy Lau, Julie Hillman, Eric Cohler, and Charles Pavarini III. One of our own T&C exclusive picks is this side table by David Wiseman, which will be exhibited by R 20th Century Gallery from New York City.

The opening night preview party takes place this Thursday, November 14th at 6:30 pm. Tickets are $125 per person and will benefit the Kips Bay Boys and Girls Club.

Read more: <http://www.townandcountrymag.com/leisure/arts-and-culture/art-and-design-fair#ixzz2kZ14gcuk>